

APPENDIX A:

ST. GERMAIN DRUM SITE DESCRIPTION

The St. Germain Drum Site is located at 340 - 350 Winthrop Street (Route 44) in Taunton, Massachusetts. The Site encompasses approximately 6 acres of land. An unnamed brook bisects the property. The brook drains to the Three Mile River located approximately 1,000 feet to the north, and follows an underground oil pipeline. There are approximately 118 people within a one-quarter mile radius. Homes along Cohannet Street to the south of the Site are at the top of a steep embankment, 100 feet higher than the Site, and 400 feet from the nearest area to be excavated.

APPENDIX B:

OAK STREET DRUM DISPOSAL AREA SITE DESCRIPTION

The Oak Street Superfund Site is located along Oak Street in the City of Taunton, Massachusetts, identified as lot 39 in block 35 on plan 17, in ward 7 on the City of Taunton, Massachusetts. The Site is approximately 1 acre. The Site was used as an unlicensed landfill, accepting fill, construction debris, scrap metal, and drums in an undocumented manner. The grade drops steeply to approximately 30 feet down to an undisturbed wooded area on the northern border of the Site. Debris protruding from the face of the slope suggests that the current raised topography of the site is due to the landfilling activities.

APPENDIX C:

ROUTE 44 DISPOSAL AREA SITE DESCRIPTION

The Route 44 Drum Site is located at 354 and 356 Winthrop Street (Route 44), Taunton, Massachusetts. The Site consists of approximately three acres of flat, unpaved land that is free of trees and brush, with the exception of the southern boundary where there are woods and a steep, upward grade,. The Three Mile River is located approximately 1000 feet to the north. Approximately 118 people are within a one-quarter mile radius of the Site, with 2636 within a one mile radius of the Site. Soils from the Site were excavated for use at an off-site construction project around 1930. Disposal of drums in the excavation hole occurred through 1964.
